HUMAN TRAFFICKING

Human trafficking is a global phenomenon. In 2017 there are more slaves than in any given point in history. According to a report issued by the White House, there are more than 27 million people suffering from conditions similar to slavery worldwide. Slavery or human trafficking is now defined as:

1. Sexual trafficking in which the sexual act is traded by force or coercion, or in which the person led to commit the act is under 18 years of age.
2. The recruitment, housing, transportation, provisioning or procurement of an individual for the fulfilment of work or services by force or coercion with the purpose of subjugation to servitude, peonage or slavery.

Human trafficking is the second most profitable crime in Mexico. It is estimated that every year at least 20,000 girls suffer from sexual exploitation.

ABOUT THE FILM

THE WILD DANCE is a feature film made with the purpose to create awareness and generate reflections, debates and actions that can help prevent human trafficking. In order to fulfill its objective, the film is divided into six sections, each dealing with a specific topic related to human trafficking. The stories depicted throughout the film were the result of a strenuous process of investigation and creative development, involving seven film directors and more than twenty experts: sociologists, anthropologists, psychologists, criminalists, specialists in human rights and human trafficking.

SYNOPSIS

Internet as a victim facilitator for sexual slavery, underage hitmen, infant labor workers under inhuman conditions, dysfunctional shelters, collateral victims and distraught families are some of the topics engaged by THE WILD DANCE.

FOLLOWBACK

Genre: Fiction

Length: 15 minutes

Directors: Stacy Perskie, Alayde Castro Hernández

Screenplay: Gina Herrera, Alayde Castro Hernández

Animation: Rodrigo Salmerón, Marco Antonio del Toro

Cast: Paulina Matos, Arianna Nicole Sucar, Lorena del

Castillo, Julio Hernández, Luis Genaro Peñalosa, Violeta

Robles Vivas, Sayra Rendón Ibarra, Sebastián Mauthe

Music: DaPuntoBeat

TOPIC: Social media as means to capture and consume human trafficking victims.

Social media has become an instrument for abduction and distribution of sexual exploitation. Traffickers adopt false identities in order to lure their victims and contact consumers, who seldom know where the sexworkers come from.

SYNOPSIS: FollowBack is a short film that is presented in an innovative format, for the whole story is shown through three cell phone screens. The first is Lorena's cellphone, a 16 year old girl who travels to Mexico City for what she thinks is a photo shoot; the second is the trafficker's phone, once the abduction has taken place; and the third is the screen of a consumer of so-called amateur porn.

DISPOSABLES

Genre: Fiction

Length: 19:32 minutes

Screenplay: Miguel Ángel Fernández

Director: Miguel Ángel Fernández

Director of Photography: Alejandro Chávez

Cast: Rodolfo Calderón, Angel Noe Alvarado, Francisco Pita, Angel Copado, Eduardo Rodríguez

Music: Alfredo Garrido

TOPIC: Underage hitmen

Nowadays there are more minors working for organized crime than Federal Police in Mexico. Life expectancy for these minors spans only three years after their first crime. A quick glimpse of the current situation might lead to the conclusion that those minors should be tried in court as adults; however, this does not take into account that they are also victims of human trafficking.

SYNOPSIS: Disposables follows the story of Martín, a 15 year old boy tricked and threatened by a cartel to become a hitman. He unexpectedly reunites with someone who will help him escape, unleashing the wrath of his captors and a series of lethal repercussions.

DIRECTOR: Miguel Ángel Fernández
Writer, director and editor of the short film Chalma, an adaptation of the short story Talpa by Juan Rulfo, part of the official selection for FICG 2016 and the Latino Film Festival of Berlín (2016). His other short film, Pasajeros, was part of the official selection of FIC Morelia and the FICIQQ in Chile.

Director: Ana Díez

Director of Photography: Alejandro Chávez

Cast: 30 boys and girls from 12 to 18 years of age

Music: Alfredo Garrido

TOPIC: The point of view of minors and potential consumers or victims of human trafficking.

Human trafficking is present, whether we see it or not, in children's and youngsters' lives all around the globe. However, most of them are unaware of the faces, menaces and roots of this issue.

SYNOPSIS: Voces Blancas (Clear Voices) gathers thirty girls and boys from 12 to 17 years of age in order to fathom their viewpoints on sexuality, sexism and human trafficking, amongst other topics.

DIRECTOR: Ana Díez

Length: 20:17 minutos

Screenplay: Rodrigo Ruíz Patterson

Director: Rodrigo Ruíz Patterson

Director of Photography: Argel Ahumada

Cast: Asur Zagada, Francisco Barreiro, Carmen Ramos

Music: Alfredo Garrido

TOPIC: The other victims.

Hundreds of thousands of people are victims of human trafficking. This leaves their relatives and loved ones distraught and often helpless when facing the authorities. They are, themselves, victims of human trafficking.

SYNOPSIS: It tells the tale of Araceli, a domestic employee, the night she finds out her daughter, Sonia, has disappeared. After running into a heap of obstacles when turning to the police, she decides to find Sonia herself. Araceli will have to enter a world of corruption and do the unimaginable if she intends to get her back.

DIRECTOR: Rodrigo Ruíz Patterson

SUN UNDER THEIR FEET

Genre: Documentary

Length: 22:00 minutes

Screenplay: Ángel Linares

Director: Ángel Linares

Director of Photography: Renato Martínez Gómez

Cast: Aurelina Diaz, Olivia Ponce, Silvia Ponce, Don Enrique, Pedro Galviz

Music: Alfredo Garrido

TOPIC: The exploitation of infant day laborers in mexican crop fields.

The working conditions of day laborers are not appropriately supervised and regulated by mexican authorities. Many of them work since their childhood under inhuman conditions for miniscule and illegal salaries.

SYNOPSIS: The Sun Under Their Feet is a short film that enters the reality of children who involuntarily become day laborers in Mexico. This documentary bears testimony to the conditions under which they are forced to work with their parents, as well as the lies and abuse they suffer from their employers.

DIRECTOR: Ángel Linares

MAY THE CHILDREN SING

Genre: Fiction

Length: 19:10 minutes

Screenplay: Gina Herrera, Genaro Peñalosa

Director: Gina Herrera

Director of Photography: Flavia Martínez

Cast: Nicole Reyes, Matilde Luna, Maria Lourdes Perez, Catalina López.

Music: Alfredo Garrido

TOPIC: Dysfunctional shelters, a haven for all kinds of exploitation.

Most of the shelters and orphanages in Mexico are not registered or regulated by a governmental institution. This, in turn, opens the door for the children to suffer from terrible living conditions and an array of abuse, while the owners exploit them for economical gain.

SYNOPSIS: Let The Children Sing accompanies Xochi and Ceci, 12 and 10 years old, through their efforts to escape an existence filled with physical, emotional and sexual abuse in a dysfunctional shelter. It tells a story of the abuse of power that subjugated children for decades in order to form a factory of neglected slaves. How many helpless and forgotten kids have to survive these conditions?

DIRECTOR: Gina Herrera

Graduate from Centro de Estudios Cinematográficos, INDIE; pointed out as one of the 5 female filmmakers worth following for her thesis project Ni aquí ni allá, which was selected for festivals such as Morelia International Film Festival (FICM), FICUNAM, New York Independent Film Festival, 12 Months (Rumania) and Short Short Film Festival.
